

Summer School 2013, Utrecht University

History of Business Systems and Entrepreneurship in Europe

Date: August 5 – August 16 2013

Summer School 2013, Utrecht University, the Netherlands

This summer the Utrecht University Summer School will offer the course History of Business Systems and Entrepreneurship in Europe.

This two-week course will examine business systems and various forms of entrepreneurship in Europe from a historical perspective. Also the global market and the increasing influence of non-European businesses will be examined.

Students will participate in seminars and will get lectures from academic professionals and senior managers from Dutch corporations.

There will be two excursions during the course.

Given the intensity and academic level of the course a good understanding of the English language is mandatory.
